ANDREWS & FOSTER
DRILLING COMPANY

“Andrews & Foster is a professional company in every sense of the word. There are a lot of companies out there who will tell you that they can drill a well. The truth is, anyone who knows anything about well drilling will tell you, it’s never that simple. With many years in the field, Andrews & Foster has the ability to design and produce a lasting product that works better than promised...even under the most challenging circumstances.”

– Woody Thames,
Rancher/Business owner

Andrews & Foster is one of the oldest, most experienced water well drilling companies in the Southern United States.

Established in 1940, the company is highly qualified to manage both commercial and residential projects, with clients ranging from multinational corporations to individual homeowners.

Donald Andrews Foster, company president and owner, has more than 26 years experience in the drilling industry and specializes in ground water and natural resources investigations. He is a member of several professional organizations, including:

- National Ground Water Association
- Texas Ground Water Association

K-LINE IRRIGATION SYSTEMS

Andrews & Foster. An exclusive dealer of K-Line Irrigation systems.

K-Line Irrigation is sold through a system of established irrigation dealers that specialize in installation and support of pastureland products. Andrews & Foster is one such dealer.

K-Line products are long-lasting, environmentally friendly, have a long track record of trouble free operation, conserve our valuable natural resources of water and energy. K-Line irrigation systems can be adapted to almost any shape and size of field without costly changes in fencing, shade trees, buildings, etc. The slow absorption method that comes from smaller sprinklers irrigating over a longer period of time actually results in greater forage growth with virtually no runoff, allowing for considerable water savings or more forage with the same amount of water.
